Maine, Vermont Close Out First Half of the Season This Weekend Black Bears and Catamounts Square Off With ECAC Opponents

Maine vs. Union - Fri. 12/12, Sat. 12/13 at Union

- Maine rounds out the first half of the season with two games at Union this weekend. The Black Bears are coming off of a weekend where they fell to No. 1 Boston College, 8-1, at home.
- Maine junior forward Jillian Langtry scored the lone goal for Maine against the Eagles; it was also her first goal of the season.
- Maine head coach Richard Reichenbach has already matched his win total from 2013-14, leading the Black Bears to a 7-9-2 record thus far. His 6-3-1 record in Hockey East play has his squad currently sitting in third place.
- The Dutchwomen have skated in six contests against four Hockey East teams in 2014-15, compiling a 2-3-1 record against UConn, Vermont, Providence, and Northeastern.
- Union senior goaltender Shenae Lundberg leads the NCAA with 553 saves so far this season, 73 more than the next-closest netminder. Black Bears goalie Meghann Treacy is third with 452 saves.

Vermont vs. Dartmouth - Sun. 12/13 at Vermont

- Vermont is coming into this weekend after falling, 4-1, in league play to then-No. 5 Boston University Dec. 6. The Catamounts will be looking to bounce back on Sunday when they play host to non-conference opponent Dartmouth.
- Sophomore forward Victoria Andreakos was the only Catamount to beat freshman Terrier goaltender Victoria Hanson in the game, potting her second goal of the season.
- Dartmouth fell to No. 1 Boston College Wednesday night, 6-1, at Thompson Arena. It was the third game against a Hockey East opponent this year for Dartmouth, falling to 1-2-0.
- The matchup at Gutterson Fieldhouse marks the first of six consecutive road contests for the Big Green, including a trip to Matthews Arena to meet Northeastern Dec. 31.
