HUGGON EASY SELECTION AS PLAYER OF THE MONTH
Five shutouts lifts her NCAA-dominating total to 11 this season

The UNH Wildcats can safely say they are gifted with the most coveted asset in hockey: a superior goaltender. Senior Jen Huggon is making shutouts second nature – in 26 games this season, she has 11 shutouts and six one-goal games.

TPS Louisville Player of the Month
ITECH Goaltender of the Month
Jen Huggon – New Hampshire
Senior Goaltender; Plymouth, MA

With five shutouts in eight games in January, Huggon lifted her total to 11 on the season, including seven in league play. Only No. 2 ranked Minnesota was able to get more than one goal past Huggon, scoring four as she responded with a respectable 30 saves, many point blank.

ITECH Rookie of the Month
Jill McInnis – Boston College
Freshman Defenseman; Quincy, MA

A December injury kept McInnis out of action early in the month, but the recovery time paid off as she registered at least one assist in four out of the last five games. Her biggest game came against conference rival Northeastern. The Eagles fell by a close 5-4 final, and McInnis set up three of the four BC goals. She also set up on one of the two goals scored against Harvard as well as the only goal scored against Providence.

Runner-up:
 Jana Bugden – PC (Fr. G) 4-1-3, 1.49 GAA, .925 SP
